

FEEDER CATTLE AND SLAUGHTER CATTLE CHECKLIST - PRODUCTION REPORT

Stabilization of Farm Income (ASRA) Program

The production report presents various information on the number of head born on the farm, purchased, sold live and slaughtered, as well as the insurable weight gain for the insurance year in question.

One section of the production report is specifically dedicated to the list of ineligible animals. To help you decide what to do, here are the various reasons why a steer is ineligible for La Financière agricole du Québec (FADQ). You will also find possible measures to restore its insurability.

The reasons for ineligibility described below apply to steers for which the declared incidents require verification that may necessitate supporting documents or other explanations before they can be accepted for your insurance file. It is also possible that these incidents do not meet the program requirements.

Please note that your production report is available at all times in your online file and is updated daily from Monday to Friday.

The report in your online file contains two additional exclusive sections, namely the list of eligible animals available for each insurance year, as well as the list of animals in your file (inventory) from the FADQ for the current year.
